'Let Summer Come'

SCNmedia is offering you the chance to host an evening featuring three singer songwriters from the UK.

Shirley Novak, Caroline Bonnett and Sue Rinaldi

'Let Summer Come',

an evening of live music, chat and reflections on life

This unique collaboration is a rare chance to see all three artistes performing their own songs about life, love and everything in between, but also accompany each other using piano, bass (including upright) and acoustic guitar.

The evening also includes inspirational chat and short film projections making it an intimate all round 'thought provoking' evening.

Shirley, Caroline and Sue have been performing and touring in their own right since the 1980's but come together for the first time to kick start conversations covering everything from mental health struggles, and peer pressure through to finding an answer to that big question 'why'?

How will it work?

Book a room, or perhaps you already meet somewhere that may be suitable, with some low lighting available. Let Summer Come is ideally suited to a cabaret style setting and an audience size of no more than 100 people.

How about asking people to bring their own drinks and you provide the nibbles?

SCNmedia will provide the PA (sound system) and all the necessary equipment except lighting.

The cost for an evening of Let Summer Come is:

£450 including travel to a distance of 50 miles from Nottingham (ask for a quote on more than 50 miles)

If you sell 100 tickets at £7 (£700) minus costs (£450) this will give you a profit of £250

How about a raffle or ask for a donation to boost your funds?
